Wisdom Quest Community

Yellow Springs, Ohio

Greetings again for our combined (July/August) Summer Meeting to be held at Bruce Forrester's place in Beavercreek Ohio. A "Wine and Cheese" party, with maybe some Desserts (thanks to Linda Kim and Conrad Sherwin) and even some Hors d'œuvres that may decide to walk in the door, potluck style. Not a dinner party; but a Wine and Cheese Affair; where we can talk the big talk... and bandy about our favorite Grandiose Ideas... perhaps with some delusional thinking for good measure. Let's start the show around 7pm on a Friday the 13th Evening and see just how late we run (Since it's my place, I guess we can stay all night). Call me: 937 429 3847

Where? 3490 Clar-Von Drive; Beavercreek, Ohio 45430

When? Friday, August 13th from 7pm ---9pm or ???

Poisoned Pawn:

Report from The United States Psychotronics Association (USPA) 35th Annual Conference held this year in Louisville Kentucky

In the Najdorf Variation of the Sicilian Defense, the only player ever to consistently "get away" with taking that Poison Pawn in the opening would be the immortal Bobby Fischer. The idea is to offer some tempting bait; or more likely someone gets greedy and then decides to snatch what does not belong to them. The result is a very slight lead in material for Black; but saddled with laggard development heading into the Middle Game. Further result means a poorly placed and awkward Queen for Black and a wonderful, powerful Center for White. This risky line was pioneered by the Russian Bronstein in 1951; furthered by Fischer and then perfected by Russians Karpov and Gasparov, both World Champions. For us regular folks: taking someone else's "goodies" invariably leads to unintended consequences that serve as punishment for such effrontery.

Report from The USPA 35th Annual Conference held July 16-19, 2010 in Louisville Kentucky

Pretty good this year's Psychotronics Conference; About 128 people there as of Saturday Night at the Banquet; down from the more usual 300... but who's counting? Appreciative I am of the work that goes into putting on any sort of conference; I should know as Director of the Wisdom Quest Chapter (the last one standing) of the U.S. Psychotronics Association. Of course we were kicked out by the "Ethics Committee" before I took over; so now we are simply: "Wisdom Quest". All those people to pick up at the airport; all those people who get free a free pass; all those honorariums for the speakers; this means after the Board of Directors get their perks, the treasury is about empty. Regardless, the USPA has a great tradition of being the only game in town when it comes to technology of the Human Spirit. This could be the last one; didn't want to miss; because tomorrow never knows to be there for the USPA. . .

In my opinion, Lutie Larson of Little Farm Research in Utah (<http://www.littlefarmresearch.com/>) stole the show with her report on Radionics in Agriculture. Lutie Larson, a tall, attractive, athletic, fecund natural mother of ten, uses Radionic Instrumentation to "Broadcast" living frequencies to seeds, plants, crops and fields. Result: Increased yields and "Nutrient Density" and lower use of harmful pesticides and herbicides and, of course, avoidance of Frankenstein, Round-Up Ready from Monsanto. What made Lutie so effective as a speaker was her first person account of the actions she has taken and results she has achieved. Other USPA speakers often wax ebullient with overly theoretical, mathematical double think featuring Einstein, Scalar, Zero Point and again more Einstein conjecturing...

For us regular Wisdom Quest folks, we remember we are the last chapter remaining from the historic U.S. Radionics Congress, founded by the late Jerry Galimore of Indianapolis, Beutlich from Chicago and a few others in 1975 and changed to U.S. Psychotronics shortly later.

WHAT IS PSYCHOTRONICS? (RADIONICS)

ANSWER:

Consider Electro-tronics; the technology of electricity. This technology is Psycho-tronics; technology and instrumentation of the Human Psyche or Human Spirit, a living energy permeating our entire being and radiated even beyond, as in "Halo" or "Orgone"; perhaps synonymous with the concept of "Soul" (No, not anything to do with Negroes... but the real spiritual deal). A wide spread example would be the technics of the Pendulum (Foucault, Newton) and simple fresh Willow Branches, used by the Amish to dowse for fresh sweet Water. Both the pendulum and fresh Willow branch, when held in Human hands, seem, by observation, to interact with our own living energy; which appears to have its own higher intelligent consciousness; not always accessible to our cognitive intellect. From such simple origins, now instruments use a "Touch Plate" and "Witness Well" to interface with our living, spiritual, self-conscious, universal energy. But I digress. . .

This year's conference came after a one year lay-off and reorganization after the death of longtime Secretary for Life, Bob Beutlich. Our own Wisdom Quest Chapter of the U.S. Psychotronics Association (the last one standing and formerly known as the Phoenix Chapter USPA) was consistently driven to achievement and success by our chapter founder, Emerson King. We served as unpaid volunteers when the national conference was held for years in Columbus Ohio; and several times we have been the host ourselves with successful, well-attended (300-500 people) conferences held at Bergamo Mount St John Marianist Retreat Center in beautiful Beavercreek Ohio.

So, this year's Conference retreated to Louisville Kentucky, home of USPA President, "Doctor" Peter Moscow (Ph.D. in Hypnotherapy from the American Institute of Hypnotherapy of California), an elderly psychologist whom I observed appears to have lost weight from his usual corpulence; and who appears to me now of having a distinct yellowish tinge to his somewhat sallow complexion.

Perennial Speakers:

Beverly Coleman, perennial USPA Board Member, (and considerably more dour than fellow speaker and Perennial Board Member, Laverne Denyer), has been a very regular fixture; speaking this time "Looking Backward at the Visionaries of USPA". "Doctor" Glen Rein, who to his credit is faster and funnier, smarter and more energetic than "Doctor" Moscow; Glen (also perennial USPA Board Member) did not interrupt his nearly 25 years in a row record of speaking mostly about "Biological Significance of Water; Structured with Non-Hertzian Waves". Hard to disagree: we know that no two water crystals (snowflakes) are ever the same; so much for mandatory politically correct theories of absolute equality. No two grains of sand are the same either. What about people? Guess what: No two people are the same; some are tall, some are short... some are smart, some are stupid... like The Good, The Bad and The Ugly.

However portions of this year's Conference were surprisingly good! Young Ed Kelly, son of the late Peter Kelly of Lakemont Georgia; has taken up the mantle of building solidly good Radionic Equipment. Check out Ed Kelly for a great source of real Radionic equipment:

(www.KellyResearchTech.com). Ed Kelly's Dad, Peter Kelly, was an early member of the USPA until he ran afoul of the "Ethics Committee" and suffered similarly as Tom Bearden and Dean Stonier, who later went on to found Global Sciences Congress, based in Denver Colorado. From years of observation, my personal understanding and analysis of the USPA Board, and its enforcement arm, the "Ethics Committee", reveals a parasitic function of feeding off of the membership. Demanding and getting commissions and cuts from revenues created by Members, Exhibitors and Local Chapters, the Board, now headed by Peter Moscow, has (in my opinion as an Old Timer) about "bled out" the once vibrant organization known as the USPA.

Public Persona

Now Peter Moscow may be a fine fellow in his private life; and I have reason to believe that he is. Peter Moscow may also be an effective and able psychologist in his private practice; and I have reason to believe that he is. However: it is in his "Public Persona" as President of the National USPA, that I have observed over the years, in my opinion, unethical and parasitic behavior that has harmed our beloved organization, The United States Psychotronics Association, to which I have belonged and supported as a dues paying Member and Exhibitor and Speaker, off and on, since my first National Conference way back in 1985 at Bergamo Mt. Saint John.

This year's conference, in the slightly seedy Inplace Motel on the outskirts of Louisville, featured bad, very bad Air Conditioning in Kentucky's July humid heat...

USPA EXHIBITORS:

The USPA Exhibitors and Vendors, in the dimly lit and cavernous Exhibition Hall, overcame some adversity of humid, hot and sticky Kentucky heat and were all Beaucoup Good!

BOB PETERS of Phoenix Books from Columbus (<http://www.phoenixbooksltd.com/>) had a marvelous selection and many volumes on Ufology; Alternative Healing; Women's Goddess Spirituality; Forbidden Archeology; Mathematics of Phi and the Golden Section; Sacred Indian Mounds; Sustainable and Organic Agriculture. Quite a resource for our community.

PHIL WILSON of Momentum 98 in Columbus, <http://www.momentum98.com/> brought selections of hard to find items like the "Accu Spark", a piezo-electric stimulator for Acupuncture points. When placed just right, exquisitely on the right spot; or when holding hands with others: Sending bursts of Earth Electricity coursing through the central nervous system: Producing spasms of intense, convulsive pleasurable sensation; that leaves one breathless and almost numb. Also intriguing was the Far Infrared Sauna; a portable device, suitable for practitioner use; that was so popular that folks were standing in line to get a demo (Clothes Optional for this one).

USPA EXHIBITORS:

ED KELLY: Leads the League in building exquisite Radionics Equipment.

www.KellyResearchTech.com . The Betar ELF Generator: Very Nice; even features the smaller, more affordable models: "Home and Roam"; and "Pocket Edition". The full size Betar comprises an electro-immersion system resulting in Sound permeation of one's entire being: Impressive! Benefits too numerous to mention must be disclaimed: Experimental Use Only...

DR NORM SHEALY: (<http://www.normshealy.com/>), A real Physician who has developed effective frequency technology: "RejuvaMatrix", a Tesla Coil System for Human Health! With an electro-transducing mat laid out upon the floor, Dr Shealy, besides being a Speaker, had a steady waiting line of folks eager to experience his RejuvaMatrix System.

DERRICK ROBINSON of Freedom from Covert Harassment and Surveillance, <http://www.freedomfchs.com/> . Concerned with "Beaming" and unwanted incoming Psychic attention; also known as "Gang Stalking" and/or "Mind Control". We remember MK-Ultra? Well, looks like they're at it again... (this time using perhaps Psychotronics for bad things). Derrick heads up an activist organization aiming to put a stop to such nonsense.

DAN DAVIDSON: Sacred Geometry; Shape Power, The Structure of Creation. Dan makes some nice stuff: "Auric Water Charger" and "Auric Water Wand". Contact Dan at: Auric Water Enterprises, POB 727, Miracle Valley, AZ 85615 AuricWaterEnterprises@gmail.com

DIANA STAHL AND DAN KAUFMAN: <http://www.biofieldenergy.com/> Dan plied me with real Mangosteen juice! An elixir of Gods: <http://www.goxango.com/dan/fruit.html> Mangosteen is a tropical Evergreen Tree; which like Rubber Trees, take forever to come into production. Recently this stuff has come onto the U.S. market... Yum! Pretty much no matter what you got; you're healed (within reason, of course). Caution: Dan's XanGo Mangosteen juice is so good, you might just sign up to become a distributor. . .

JACKIE AND TOM VALONE OF INTEGRITY RESEARCH:

<http://www.integrityresearchinstitute.org/> This dynamic duo may be the foremost team in Psychotronics today; not unlike Marie and Pierre Curie of only a century ago. Tireless writers, excellent speakers; if anyone facilitates the breakthrough into the "Wheelwork of Nature", it may be Tom and Jackie Valone. . . Excellent source for Trifield Meters; Homopolar Generators and more.

LOUISVILLE SCHOOL OF METAPHYSICS: <http://www.som.org/>. Founded by Jerry Rothermel in Missouri in 1973 (Where I was an original student, under Dianne LaMar); the School of Metaphysics has flourished, finding fertile soil in North America.

A nice newcomer: JUDY LYNNE COLE, from Healing Partnerships in Fort Wayne, represented a welcome example of new, young talent making her debut. (www.healingpartnerships.com). (260) 420-8142; With seemingly boundless energy, Judy explained Theta Brainwave producing effects of 111 Hz for healing, mental amplification and more. Judy also has these amazing and affordable, high quality (with nice carrying case) plastic Conch shell pattern Musical Horns, which are used for "Toning". (Not to be confused with vulgar Vuvuzelas; by raucous South African Soccer fans)

Unlike an efficient Corporation which plans for self regeneration through recruiting new people and bringing fresh talent up through the ranks; often top heavy organizations, like the USPA, without a deliberate program for self renewal, prematurely move through a life cycle of Growth, Maturity, Plateau and then inevitable sharp Decline.

Our beloved USPA ----> The recent numbers tell the story:

- No more local chapters.
- Since 2005, when the Conference left Columbus: Sharp decline; from 300-500 -----> down to approx 100-150.
- Top Heavy structure; Board of Directors, functioning as Mutual Admiration Society.

The Saturday Night Banquet:

A dress up affair; with a Cash Bar, and by now some certain degree of flirting familiarity born from shared bonding and intellectual intimacy over the course of the Conference; but not yet tempered by any homesick longing of knowing the Conference must end; that part does not occur until Sunday afternoon.

As the Banquet slowly ended; some nifty words by Dr Norm Shealy, MD (a real Physician by the way... most all the folks at USPA address each other as "Doctor" of some sort: Psychology; Trans-Personal Psychology; Trans-Gender Readjustment & Integration Psychology... that sort of thing). Dr Shealy presented some real life stories from his practice of medicine over the years when he introduced subtle concepts and techniques of "energy medicine" way back before such ideas were fashionable. Of course the after Banquet speakers also included "Doctor" Peter Moscow, who spoke slowly slowly, painfully slow and then more slow in what never could be construed as real authentic Irish Brogue; unless Rodney Dangerfield counts as Irish.

So there I was, seated with the energetic Judy Lynne Cole at the Banquet table: that Judy Lynne Woman is a piece... a piece of work that is: Keep an eye on that one; she bears watching! (<http://healingpartnerships.com/>). For the after hours, instead of a little band or combo, some old Frank Sinatra started to waft through the by now cooler banquet hall; with some distant Thunder blowing; and some Kentucky rain falling. . . Suddenly!, from the high perch of the head table, the Board of Directors table; Laverne Denyer sashays directly over and plumps herself down, directly facing me. Sort of excusing herself for butting in, Laverne grapples me in a head to head seated hug and would not let go. Thought maybe Stephanie McMahon had gotten loose from WrestleMania. Getting free at last, I say: "Hi Laverne..." Well, didn't take long for Laverne's hidden agenda to emerge: She wanted to know why I was even there... Huh?

So, speaking with longtime Board Member, Laverne Denyer, who has maintained some degree of open cheerfulness and heartfelt concern; still resulted in no straight answer to the simple question about what happened to all the local chapters of the once vibrant United States Psychotronics Association.

Like why are there no more chapters of the USPA.?

Specifically and repeated: I asked Laverne why the Wisdom Quest Chapter was kicked out. I thought I already knew the answer; but wanted to give Laverne a chance to speak.

Avoiding eye contact and mumbling on about Labyrinthine USPA By Laws and IRS 501(c)(3) Nonprofit Corporation paper work requirements, Laverne could not or was simply ashamed to answer why Wisdom Quest was kicked out of the USPA in approximately 2007. So I asked again a few more times: "Laverne, what happened to all the local chapters of the USPA?" "Laverne, why was Wisdom Quest (the last remaining chapter) kicked out and who was the decision maker?" Laverne then changed her story a few times: It was the Board of Directors that did it; no wait: It was the "Ethics Committee" that did it, by a unanimous vote. Laverne then confided that she had "begged and pleaded" with our local chapter founders, Emerson and Karen King, to fill out the proper paperwork and disclose the bank accounts. . .

- Laverne kept talking about paperwork and bank records... Duh? Wisdom Quest never touched any money from any of the Conferences in Columbus, where we supplied free labor and services to facilitate. Emerson King ran Wisdom Quest from his own wallet (a rather thin wallet); subsidizing as a Labor of Love. There was never any money in Wisdom Quest.
- Laverne then let drop the word: "Assets". . .

THE PLOT THICKENS...

- "Assets?" The only asset Wisdom Quest ever had was the library and equipment collection. Started under the old original Phoenix Chapter USPA in about 1993; this splendid, many thousand volume, specialized scientific and Metaphysical library was lovingly put together and increased and tended (for over 12 years) by Emerson and Karen King; and had its origins from the Estate of longtime Phoenix Chapter member, Stefan Horvath, of Columbus Ohio. Stefan Horvath was an old personal friend of Emerson and Donna (Emerson's first wife, now deceased). Phoenix Chapter USPA morphed through a name change into Wisdom Quest shortly thereafter. I know these details: being one of many volunteers that Indian Summer Autumn afternoon as we loaded pickup trucks and Minivans for the move from Columbus to Springfield. The first home for our Wisdom Quest Library was Harvey Bank and Marlyn Pequignot's "Center for Pranic Restoration" at 1330 East High Street in the Historic Mansion section of lovely old Springfield Ohio. Featuring a dedicated building (which used to be the Servant's Quarters), open access to all, and room to display, and use, Radionic equipment from a bygone era; These features reflected well on Emerson and Karen.
- When the Center for Pranic Restoration experienced financial difficulties, the Library was moved to Emerson and Karen's spacious home on Old Mill Road (scene of many a seminar, workshop and Wine and Cheese reception).
- Though not privy to all details from the inner machinations of the USPA Board and its ugly child, the "Ethics Committee", I flat out know Emerson King to be both moral and ethical: From his years of service as a Conscientious Objector in the Second World War; to his founding of the Phoenix Chapter USPA before I arrived in Dayton way back in 1984; and continuing with his fine work of Wisdom Quest Chapter, USPA.

Trouble in the USPA...

- In my very personal opinion, Peter Moscow did badly covet our Wisdom Quest Library... (Hey, it's just my considered personal opinion: Contact Peter Moscow directly for his side of the story: USPsychotronics@aol.com)
- In my personal opinion, Peter Moscow first coveted and then finally managed to acquire our Wisdom Quest Library by devious and unethical means; using the figleaf of the "Ethics Committee" to gain wrongful possession. Like, how else did he get it? Contact Peter Moscow directly to get his version: 409 Marquette Dr, Louisville, KY 40222; (502) 429-6600.
- In the process of using Money Changer in the Temple routines to acquire our Wisdom Quest Library; and in the process of using the Figleaf of "Ethics Committee" to obfuscate and misdirect, Peter Moscow broke the Heart of Emerson King. . . And that, in my opinion:
"Was worse than a crime; it was a mistake"
- Result: Peter Moscow has taken and now possesses a "Poisoned Pawn".
- Consequence: The USPA Board has inflicted upon itself a Fatal Karmic Wound; Now Festering. . .
- Possible antidote to save and resuscitate the now dying USPA: Return the library immediately, including the equipment collection, to its rightful owners: Emerson and Karen King. If they cannot receive; then donate immediately to Bob Peters of Phoenix Books in Columbus Ohio. Donate without condition or strings attached.
- Do this act of contrition now and immediately; or else face the natural consequences of: The Law of Karma, which cannot be broken.

Our Wisdom Quest Library now molders in a locked, humid, rented storage bin somewhere in Louisville Kentucky. Remember Andrea Puharic: when he died, his wife threw away to the dumpster his entire life's work collection. . .

Sincerely,

Bruce M. Forrester Jr
